BE'ER SHEVA LAKE ACCESS IMPROVEMENTS A.K.A. "LINK 2 LAKE"

ABOUT US

The Link2Lake (L2L) project envisions a vibrant, active corridor from the Rainier Beach Light Rail Station to Lake Washington, along S. Henderson St.

"Where's the Beach" A.K.A. Be'er Sheva Lake Access Improvements is the first L2L project. In 2017, the L2L Open Space Steering Committee, with support from Seattle Department of Neighborhoods (DON) and the Seattle Parks Foundation, solicited input from Rainier Beach community on what they liked about park and what would draw them in even more. This informed a schematic design for the park improvements. In 2019, we were awarded another DON grant to hire Site Workshop landscape architects to create build-ready documents based on the community-envisioned design schematic. We are currently in fundraising mode to ensure that improvements can be built.

Tiny Trees is all-outdoors. We partner with public parks and create a class space that affords children even more than the traditional classroom can. The best part is we offer this joyful education to all families, with an equitable approach to financial assistance available and a commitment to inclusive, anti-bias practices.

"9053 MLK" A.K.A. FUTURE FOOD INNOVATION CENTER

ABOUT US

The "Food Innovation Center" (the "FIC") will deliver a multi-purpose facility that combines commercial kitchen facilities for training and production, classroom space, and supportive services (computer lab, day care, public agency offices) in order to create a center that can bring together education, training, job creation, food production and community connection. The kitchen space could serve as a food incubator program for catering or value-add food production, training space for culinary arts programs, and community cooking space for community members and not-for-profit agencies. The educational spaces would be programmed by the community college system or other post-secondary educational partners to provide classes in the technical aspects of food delivery, preparation, production and nutrition, ESL and business skills classes, and other post-secondary degree offerings. Agencies supporting immigrant services, resume writing, job skills, and small business development would be co-located in the site. To maximize utilization of the site, affordable or mixed income housing will be developed above the FIC. Projected cost is $13,300,000.

GET INVOLVED

RBAC needs to conduct a formal needs assessment to determine what will actually go in the facility. If you have ideas on the most critical needs that would fill a gap and be sustainability share your ideas with us.

ELIZABETH THOMAS HOMES

ABOUT US

The Equity Alliance of Washington (EAW) in partnership with Catholic Housing Services of Western Washington (CHS) will develop approximately 95 units of affordable housing serving families between 50% - 60% AMI with the intention of housing low-wage working families and individuals in the Rainier Beach Neighborhood. We will be constructing approximately five floors of housing over ground floor commercial space. Although we are in the early planning phase we anticipate that the ground floor commercial component will include: space for offices for both property management and potentially on-site service providers and food service and local retail space. Prior to finalizing our plans for the commercial space we intend to work closely with the community to determine the best uses for the ground floor.

The project is located at the intersection of S. Henderson Street and Renton Avenue S. just two blocks from the Rainier Beach Light Rail Station.

GET INVOLVED

We will be seeking funding support from the Office of Housing in Sept 2019. We would welcome your support in our application process.

THE GREEN LINE

ABOUT US

The Green Line is a community stewardship project taking place in the transmission corridor of Seattle City Light in upper Rainier Beach. This is the space under high-voltage power lines the city uses to get power from its source into your outlet. Previously, it was primarily inhabited by invasive weeds. With two acres planted, and 3 years of pollinator population data collected, The Green Line publicly launched in fall 2018 in partnership with: The Common Acre, Rainier Beach Action Coalition, Duwamish Alive Coalition, King Conservation District, and EarthCorps. Restoring native plants and pollinators to unused land, we're creating a sustainable habitat that can model how communities may repurpose inactive public space. It's part of a strategy to create "hubs and spokes" of community directed, re-purposed public land that can become a "grid" with civic utility and ecological and cultural promise.

GET INVOLVED

- Provide feedback on public green space needs and opportunities
- Become a Community Leadership Council member
- Take a public survey on Open Space activation beginning summer 2019
- Sign up to be a volunteer Community Steward and participate in First Saturdays
- Attend monthly Community Stewardship party, every First Saturday from 10 - 2 pm @ 10617 53rd Ave S, Seattle 98178

RAINIER BEACH LEARNING GARDEN

ABOUT US

Jointly managed by Seattle Parks and Recreation (SPR) and Tilth Alliance, the Rainier Beach Learning Garden is located behind South Shore K-8. Originally developed to provide garden education and environmental stewardship for students at South Shore School, it is celebrating ten years of growing food and community education this year!

The garden is showing its years of use, and needs some freshening up. This site has potential to be a vibrant hub of environmental and health education activities for students, families, and community members.

GET INVOLVED

TAYLOR CREEK CULVERT REPLACEMENT PROJECT

ABOUT US

Taylor Creek originates in unincorporated King County and passes through a natural area known as Dead Horse Canyon within Lakeridge Park. It then passes through residential yards and a culvert under Rainier Avenue South before discharging into Lake Washington. The culvert under Rainier, along with other barriers in the creek, prevents fish passage to good quality habitat in Dead Horse Canyon. Seattle Public Utilities (SPU) purchased property at the lower reaches of Taylor Creek to increase the quality and quantity of shoreline habitat, particularly for threatened juvenile Chinook salmon. The restored natural area (shoreline habitat) will also create a new opportunity for public access to Lake Washington. The project is currently in the design phase. Regulatory agencies, funding partners and the community have all provided insight into the new natural area. Construction of the project is anticipated as early as 2021.

GET INVOLVED

- Share your feedback on how you would like to use the new natural area, how you like to recreate in natural areas and if there are any barriers to access/safety concerns for you.
- Attend future meetings [tentative June 8]

ABOUT US

The Kubota Garden Foundation (KGF) is a non-profit 501(c3) organization formed in 1989 to continue a partnership with the City of Seattle and assure the preservation of the entire 20-acre garden as envisioned by the Kubota family. Working with partner organizations, volunteers implement free cultural and educational events. Volunteers and donor members raise all the revenue for KGF by organizing plant sales, writing grants, and recruiting members. A team of KGF volunteer archivists catalogue and maintain the important historic aspects of the garden.

RAINIER VALLEY GREENWAYS

ABOUT US

The Rainier Valley Greenways is a community based organization that believes that Rainier Valley should be a great place to walk and bike. We advocated for comfortable, well-maintained sidewalks, safe crosswalks, and safe bike lanes that actually take bicyclist where they need to go. We are also concerned about car speeding and other factors that lead to car drivers colliding with people who walk and bike.

GET INVOLVED

- We want to learn from to folks in the community what their concerns are with regard to how our streets are designed for safe biking and walking, and what new trails, crosswalks, paths, and sidewalk facilities they would like in their communities.
- We meet on the Third Tuesday of every month at 6:00 pm at 3715 S Hudson St in Columbia City, (Bike Works offices, not the store) all are welcome!
